FURTHER EXTENSION AND IMPROVEMENT OF THE

GREAT WESTERN HOTEL,

FORT. BOMBAY.

THE increase of Travellers, Visitors and Residents in Bombay, has induced the Proprietor to make FURTHER VAST STRUCTURAL IMPROVEMENTS beyond those carried out last year to this the most popular and successful hotel in India.

A FINE SPACIOUS VERANDAH is under construction with the usual kindness of the Landlord, and will be placed all around the building, and this addition has been so planned as to give privacy so inadequately attained in most hotels, with added comfort to visitors and residents.

The SANITARY arrangements have had especial attention and meet with the approval of the best scientific authorities.

Every Bedroom has a Bathroom, with constant and full supply of water secured by costly steam power.

The DINING HALL—the largest and finest in India—is worthy of its name, having been the Hall of the High Court of Justice. There are Billiard, Reading, Smoking and Drawing Rooms for the use of residents.

Fine views of Bombay's celebrated harbour, with full access to sea breeze.

For TRAVELLERS the Great Western offers facilities in its proximity to Station, Harbour, Government and other Offices.

Trams pass the door to all parts of the city.

Passengers at Church Gate and Victoria Stati[illegible] by Hotel servants. Tariff, Rs. 5 per day.

H. H. THE NIZAM'S STATE RAILWAY
ADVERTISING AT RAILWAY STATIONS.

THE PROPRIETOR of the Bombay Gazette Press, having leased from the NIZAM'S STATE RAILWAY Company the exclusive right of advertising at all the Railway Stations belonging to the Company, is prepared to contract with parties desirous of posting notices or advertisements on the lines.

The Cantonment of SECUNDRABAD, as is well known, contains the largest military garrison in India—a garrison comprising over 5,000 British and native troops. Contiguous to it is the Cantonment of BOLARUM, garrisoned by two regiments and one battery of the Hydrabad Contingent, all officered by Europeans. South of Secunderabad, about 4 miles are the suburbs of Hydrabad, containing the Nizam's regular troops, about 5,000 in number, officered mostly by Europeans—besides a large civil population. It would manifestly be advantageous to firms to advertise at the stations on the above railway, the most important of which are SECUNDRABAD, HYDRABAD, GANGAWARUM and TANDUR.

The announcements may be in English or in any of the NATIVE LANGUAGES.

INSURANCE COMPANIES, SHIPPING COMPANIES HOTELKEEPERS, MERCHANTS, TRADERS and others who wish to force their business on the notice of the public, all alike value the privilege of Railway Station Advertising.

There is no reason why the privilege should not be also specially valuable to Advertisers in India, owing to the great and increasing number of Native Railway Passengers on the two trunk lines on Western India, Native Merchants, Traders, &c., seeing that they have the privilege of advertising in their own language, would find the publication of their announcements at Railway Stations an infallible means of extending their business.

Advertisers can select the Stations at which they wish their Placards posted, and may advertise for any period that may be agreed on. The charges are been fixed on an extremely moderate scale to encourage Advertisers to make a liberal use of the new means now offered of making announcements known to the public.

Placards, according to the taste of Advertisers may be printed at moderate charges in ENGLISH or any of the NATIVE LANGUAGES at the Bombay Gazette Press. Estimates on application.

RATES.

Board not exceeding 2 feet long and 2 feet broad Re. 1 per month. For every additional square foot annas 2.

Thus a firm exhibiting a board, say 4 square feet will have the advantage of having their business advertisement read by thousands of Passengers on one station platform for the trifling monthly expenditure of Re. 1. Parties advertising on six Stations or more will be allowed a discount of ten per cent.; on twelve Stations or more, twenty-five per cent.

The boards to be delivered at the Bombay Gazette Office whence they will be sent by the Train to the various stations selected by the Advertiser. In the event of the contract terminating, the boards will be brought back to Bombay at the expense and risk of the Advertiser.

Special arrangements for long periods.

He was immediately taken to the Sassoon Hospital suffering from the effects of opium poisoning. After a few hours treatment he completely recovered, and when placed before the City Magistrate, he stated that not having relished the idea of his mother's remarrying he thought of destroying himself.—Deccan Herald.

THEFT BY A WOMAN.—Inspector MacCubbin at the Police Court yesterday, charged Bhima, a Hindu widow, of the goldsmith caste, with stealing a gold bangle. The women, it appeared, visited the house of a goldsmith with whose cheld she began playing, and after putting it to sleep she left, taking with her one of the bangles off the child's arm. When the child awoke, the mother noticed that one of the bangles was missing. After the lapse of a fortnight, during which enquiries were made, the police were communicated with and on their arresting the woman, found that the bangle had been given by her to her paramour, who had sold it. In defence the woman stated that she found the ornament in the street and she sold it. She, however, called no witness in support of her statement and was convicted and sentenced to four months' hard labour in the common goal.

A DEXTEROUS DRUNKARD.—Inspector MacCubbin yesterday charged an old offendor before Mr. Crawley-Boevey with attempting to break into a house in Chira Bazaar. The accused, it appeared, had been released from jail on Wednesday, having just served a term of six months for lurking house tress pass. He tried to work his way up by the aid of an adjoining house ty the window of a room on the second storey. As he was on the edge attempting to get into the room he was seen by a Parsee, who made him come down and gave him over to a sepoy. In defence the prisoner stated that he was drunk and had climbed up to catch pigeons. The Magistrate re- marked that the accused must have been very dexterous in his drunkeness and convicted him on a charge of trespass for which he passed a sentence of six months with hard labour.

TWENTY STRIPES.—Mr. Crawley-Boevey yesterday had before him a young Hindu lad, named Syaga Shivoo, charged with picking pockets. On Wednesday afternoon as accused was passing along the Bhendi Bazaar Road he thrust his hand into the pocket of a native who was bargaining for boots and ran away with a purse. The owner of the purse and his friends raised a hue and cry after the thief who dropped his spoil and hid himself in a gully, from whence he was subsequently dragged. In defence prisoner denied the truth of the charge. Superintendent Crummy informed the Magistrate that the lad had received a flogging a few months ago. In August last his Worship had ordered him 10 stripes with a rattan. The accused admitted this, but added that in that case the facts were the same as the present one. His Worship said: "The flogging seemed to have no effect on you. I don't know which is the most deterrent punishment, the cane or jail, however, you must have 20 stripes this time after being examined by the Police Surgeon."

THE THEFT OF A BRIDLE.—Soomar Boodho, a Purdasee groom, in the employ of a Mr. Cummings, was yesterday charged before Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee with stealing a bridle, valued at Rs. 8, the property of Sulliman Dawood from his residence at Byculla, on the 20th instant. The accused on the date in question went to the stable of the complainant, at Bellasis Road on a visit to a relative of his employed as a groom there. Finding him absent the accused stole the bridle hanging on a peg in the stable, and offered it for sale at the shop of Noor Mahomed Ruttonsey, in Bhendy Bazaar Road. When questioned by the shopkeeper as to how he came in possession of the bridle he could not render a satisfactory account of it. The shopkeeper was about to call a policemen to give him in charge, when the accused absconded, leaving the bridle at the shop. It was immediately afterwards handed over to the police, who subsequently discovered that the accused had stolen it and he was arrested. The accused now stated that he had found the bridle lying outside the gate of the stable. He was sentenced to two months' rigorous imprisonment.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER AT BOMBAY.

AN old Mahomedan residing in a chawl on the Elphinstone Road near by the B. B. and C. I. Railway station on the west side made an extraordinary discovery yesterday morning. It appears that one of his goats got astray at the back of his chawl, he went in search of it, and when he had gone about 150 yards he discovered a box measuring about two feet six inches in length, one foot nine inches broad and two feet deep, completely sewn up in gunny, lying in a hole about nine feet long and three feet deep. In another hole of about the same dimensions, about forty yards distant he found a cotton bed in a red chintz cover tied up with a string. This aroused the man's suspicions, and he immediately went off to the nearest Police beat at Bhoiwada, where he gave information. He took a policeman to the place and at once communicated with Inspector Raymond, who ordered the box to be opened. Immediately the gunny covering was removed, the box was found to be locked with a padlock. The hinges at the back of the lid of the box were loose, but as soon as the hasp was forced the lid was forced up and its contents partially exposed. Examination showed that it contained a human body, apparently that of a young Mahomedan woman aged about 20 or 25 years, in an advanced stage of decomposition. The body had a wound on the neck under the right ear evidently inflicted by a knife or some sharp instrument.

The police are instituting enquiries with a view to unravelling the mystery. It is the opinion of the police that the body had been crushed and forced into the box after the woman had been murdered. The coroner has been informed of the matter and will hold an inquest this morning. The body is still unidentified.

FIFTH CRIMINAL SESSIONS.

AT the Criminal Sessions of the High Court yesterday, the trial of cases committed by the Magistrates was continued before Mr. Justice Scott and a common jury.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Jooma Hajee Goolam Hoosoin, a well-dressed young Mahomedan, was charged with having, on the 24th September last, committed rape on a Hindu woman, named Jumna, with an attempt to commit the offence, and with voluntarily causing hurt. Mr. Russell appeared for the Crown; and Mr. Jardine for the prisoner.

The prosecutrix was a young Hindoo widow, who had lost her husband up-country some years ago. Some time after his death, she came down to Bombay, and as is common in this country, she took up with a man, named Jeewan Jeetha, a clerk, and had for the last ten years lived with him as his wife. The house that she lived in did not bear a very good name, but there was no evidence to show that she was of an immoral character. As regarded the offence itself, the learned counsel said the jury would have to rely on the evidence of the prosecutrix; and it was but right to tell them that this evidence should be received with caution, though not with distrust, the charge being one easy to make, but hard to prove. But the jury must also take into consideration the surrounding circumstances, and judge what weight was to be attached to the woman's statement. About 8 o'clock on the evening of the 24th September last, prosecutrix was sitting in the loft of the house where she lived, talking to another woman named Moree. One Petamber, a friend of her husband, called out to him by his name, and she went downstairs and saw Petamber coming from a dewankhana where he had been seeking Jewan, her husband. The prisoner followed Petamber, and for some reason or another proceeded to assault him. On the prosecutrix remonstrating with the prisoner for doing so, he desisted, and Petamber ran away. As soon as he found himself alone, he walked into the prosecutrix's room, and placed his hand on her mouth to stifle her cries. Her husband, who happened to be coming from outside, and his friend Petamber, hearing the cries, ran up to her assistance. The door was opened; and the prisoner, threatening to strike them, went away. The prosecutrix and her husband went to a police station where they made a report. The prisoner was arrested soon after. Several witnesses were examined for the prosecution, one of whom, a woman living in the same house as the prosecutrix, stated that prosecutrix had been in the prisoner's keeping for three months this year. Prisoner came to the house to demand subscriptions for the taboots; witness paid him four annas; and he then went upstairs to ask a subscription from the prosecutrix and there was a row in the passage about subscriptions.

Mr. Jardine, for the defence, urged that the case ought not to have taken up the time of the jury at all. The learned counsel commented at some length upon the inconsistencies and improbabilities in the story told by the prosecutrix. The prosecutrix herself had varied here the story she told before the Magistrate and she had also varied in re-examination the story she told in her examination-in-chief in this Court. Reviewing all the surrounding circumstances of the case, the learned counsel said the jury would agree with him in thinking that the prosecutrix was a consenting party.

His Lordship then charged the jury.

The jury after retiring for ten minutes returned a verdict of not guilty and the prisoner was accordingly discharged.

The Sessions were adjourned at 5-15 p.m. till this morning.

THE NATIVE PRESS.

THE MARKET ACCOMMODATION OF THE CITY.

THE Bombay Samachar says that the Municipal Commissioner has awakened to the necessity of enlarging some of the existing markets and building new ones, and proposes to spend three or four lakhs for the purpose. We do not deny the necessity, but we say that it should, in the first place, be determined how far private enterprise should be allowed for the establishment of markets. It is our opinion that the Municipality should build markets in places where they are needed, only when there is no chance of a private individual coming forward to undertake the work on his own account. The Municipality can save themselves the expense of extending their existing markets, where the accommodation is found to be insufficient, by selling them to private individuals, imposing upon them such obligations as to their extension and sanitary condition as might be considered necessary. But we doubt whether this proposal will find favour either with the Municipal, Executive or the Corporation, who seem to be fired with zeal to build markets at the expense of the Municipality, rather than leave the work in the hands of enterprising individuals.

THE EXPANSION OF BOMBAY.

THE Jame-Jamshed says:—The Bombay Expansion Committee have sent in their report and the Government have thanked them for the trouble they have taken over it. We wish that the report is now published at an early date, so that we, too, may have an opportunity of expressing our appreciation of whatever value that document may possess. We are sure that before taking any action in a matter affecting the future welfare of the inhabitants of this city, the Government will first ascertain the public opinion on the proposals submitted by the Committee. We do not know what proposals the Committee have recommended; but from a few that have leaked out, from time to time, we can say that there will be some which will scarcely meet the approval of the public. For example, we doubt not that the native community will be unanimous in their opposition to the scheme of covering the Esplanade at the Marine Lines with 233 buildings. We have also yet to know whether the Committee have paid sufficient attention to the important question of housing the poor.

OUR MEMORIAL FUNDS.

THE Jam-e-Jamshed says that the zeal with which memorials funds are started in Bombay is neve kept up till the end. It gives instances of a number of such funds which are now in a languishing state for want of sustained energy on the part of their supporters. The funds raised in honour of Lord Ripon, the late Professor Fawcett, Sir James Fergusson, Sir William Wedderburn and the late Sir Maxwell Melvill, are at present in a state of neglect. But the writer says that something must be done to bring matters to a happy termination.

THE EMMA SMITH CASE.—In the case of Emma Smith, in which the petitioner claimed to be descended from Lieutenant General Smith and as such obtained a decree against the Government for a large sum of unclaimed money, the Advocate General, on certain information received, applied before Mr. Justice Trevelyan for a rule on the opposite side to show cause why she should not be stopped from receiving the money on the ground that the plaintiff was not the person she represented herself to be as she was the adopted daughter of the late Rose-Smith and not his real daughter. A week's time was thereupon allowed to file affidavits. Yesterday, the Advocate General again appeared to prove his statements by affidavits from living persons, and alleged that Emma Smith was the daughter of one Charles Braga and afterwards an inmate of Matiabruj Harem. The application for a rule was granted and two months' time was granted in order that further inquiries might be made, the rule to be served on the opposite party with power in the meantime to intervene with counter affidavits. The case has caused some sensation in local circles.

THE TATE PILGRIM HOSPITAL.—Chandbally was on the 17th instant, the scene of an interesting ceremony. In the afternoon a number of the inhabitants European and native, the commanders and officers of the steamers in port, and several visitors, might have been seen wending their way towards the plot of ground selected for the site of the Tate Pilgrim Hospital to witness the laying of the foundation stone. A silver trowel was presented in the name of the subscribers to Mrs. Tate, who laid the stone and declared it to be "well and truly laid." The hospital owes its existence to the untiring exertions of Mr. Tate, and to the hearty and liberal support given to him by the public. The absence of a place to which the sick and dying pilgrims could apply for assistance has long been felt, and there is no doubt that hundreds have perished in Chandbally for want of medical attention. The Government has been asked to sanction the application of the Puri Act to the Lodging Houses of Chandbally, and when this is obtained and the hospital finished, the comfort and welfare of the weary pilgrim to Juggernath will be secured during his sojourn to Chandbally.—English-man.

SAILORS ON STRIKE.—Captain Nickolls, commander of the B. S. Queen of Scotts, now at Calcutta, charged Spanenberg, Moore, Soape, Lavant, Jackson, Morgan, Minnis, Mc Leo, Eigilberg and, Anderson, seamen of that vessel, with combining together to impede the navigation of the vessel by refusing to do their duty. The evidence showed that the vessel was to leave port early on Saturday morning, and accused were ordered to turn to. The refused stating that the first accused had been assaulted by the chief officer while under the influence of liquor the day previously. The Captain had remonstrated with them, stating that the detention of the vessel would cause serious loss, as a steamer had been engaged to tow her that morning. The men emphatically declined to attend to their duties, he had to bring them up. Previously he gave both the first accused and the rest an opportunity of coming before the Magistrate and complaining against the chief officer. His Worship said that the offence was a very serious one, and accused had made themselves liable to a penalty of three months' hard labour each. If they had any grievance they could have come before the Court, the complainant having given them an opportunity to do so. The vessel had suffered a heavy loss by this detention, and if complainant was desirous of taking them to sea he would send them to the vessel. Complainant said that he would take them back if they would go and turn to. Accused emphatically declined to go, on which they were sentenced to six weeks' hard labour each. Complainant here asked the assistance of the Court to discharge the chief officer. His Worship said that he had no power to do so. It rested entirely with the Shipping Master, to whom he was referred.—Englishman.

MADRAS.

AN OLD (?) DOCUMENT.—In an appeal case argued in the Bangalore Chief Court on Monday, before the Chief Judge and Mr. Justice Ramchendrya, one of the exhibits was a cadgan (palmyra leaf) document, purporting to be dated 1808. It was a partition deed. His Honor the Chief Judge remarked that the cadgan did not look any thing like eighty years of ago, as it was still somewhat greenish in color and well preserved.—Bangalore Spectator.

ACCOMMODATION FOR THE JURY.—At the rising of the Madras Session Court on Monday evening, Mr. McClintock, the foreman of the special jury empanelled for the trial of the Morgan Ross case, brought to his Lordship's notice that the jury had no accommodation provided for them in the High Court, and that this caused them considerable inconvenience. His Lordship said that he was aware of that fact, and regretted very much that the jurors who attend the High Court should be thus inconvenienced. He was, however, glad to find that the Government authorities had now definitely determined upon having a new High Court building erected; but this would be a poor consolation for the present jury, because the new High Court would not be ready for another two or three years. Ample accommodation would be provided for the jury in the new building. The present buildings were not intended for a High Court at all. They were erected in the time of the old East India Company, and were meant to serve the purposes of a store-house. However, his Lordship said that from to-day the Judges' Library would be placed at the disposal of the jury.—Mail.

LAYING AT FOUNDATION STONE AT ST. MARKS'.—St' Marks' Church, North Black Town, was on Monday evening the scene of an interesting ceremony in the laying of the foundation stone of the new sanctuary of the above church. At present the building is devoid of architectural beauty, but the addition of the apse will not only lengthen the church by twenty feet, but will also secure a suitable position for the altar leaving the present sanctury available for the accommodation of the choir. The cost of the addition is about Rs. 700, a very small sum considering the great advantages that will be secured. The Reverend R. H. Durham, who, until yesterday, was the Chaplain of St. Marks,' has been at great pains to obtain subscriptions towards the building fund, and his efforts have been well rewarded. Yesterday, at 5 p. m., the Rev Mr. Durham with the Revds A C. Taylor, C. F. Foley, S G Jesudasen, D. W. Kidd, and R.P. Burnett, together with the choir, received Lady Connemara—who had consented to lay the foundation stone—at the doors of the Church. From thence the ministers and choir, accompanied by the parishioners walked in procession singing a hymn to the spot set apart for the laying of the stone. A special service was then held, and about half way through Lady Connemara, laid the stone, saying the words usual on such occasions. The priest then offered a short prayer, which was followed by an addressed by the Bishop of Madras in which he referred to the solemn part which the sanctuary played in the construction of a church, and after comparing at some length the whole church to a building, and to the part which music played, in the Church service he concluded by thanking Lady Connemara for her presence. The meeting terminated after the singing of an anthem and a hymn, and the offering up of prayer, A collection was made and Rs. 60 were received.—Ibid.

ACCIDENT AT CAWNPORE.—A serious accident took place in the Artillery lines at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning. It appears that Farrier Sergeant Scott and Sergeant Stock of the Artillery were driving home from a farewell dinner given to the Sergeant-Major of the Queen's the horse bolted with them and upset the trap, both men falling on their heads and fracturing their skulls. The first alarm of the accident was given by Mrs. Scott, who was waiting up for her husband, and who, on hearing from the verandah of her house the sudden cessation of the noise of the wheels of the returning tumtum, went out into the road in her night dress and there discovered the accident. The tum-tum was lying on one side with the lower wheel smashed to atoms, and the horse was perfectly motionless and appeared to be dead, though this proved afterwards not to be the case. Besides the two sergeants who were found lying close by, the syce has sustained very severe injuries. It is difficult to account for the seriousness of the accident, because the tum-tum was a very low one and the animal only a pony. Both of the sergeants are lying in hospital in an unconscious state, and very little hope is entertained of Sergeant Stock's recovery, though Sergeant Scott is a trifle better. The accident is a peculiarly sad one, because, besides being a great loss to the battery both of the men are married.—Pioneer.

AN EMPRESS'S OUTFIT.

THE Empress of Brasil, who has been utilizing her opportunities for purchasing chiffons in Paris, has (a correspondent of the Daily News says) had a number of new dresses made for her by Vignon. The Empress appears to have a great affection for moire antique. Two of the dresses are in this material, which is now a days very different from the fabric of the same name known to our grandmothers. The latter would have "stood alone" to use the euphemism of that period for expressing the very stiffness of rich quality. Its more refined descendant is so sumptuously soft that a whole breadth of it can easily be passed through a ring without injury to its beauty. Our grandmothers, too, liked the very large and imposing designs which, in their idea, showed the "watering" to advantage. Present taste inclines to smaller and finer patterns; and, again, in the matter of stripes, the moire antique of to-day is relieved from monotony by ribbon-like alternations of satin and moire, with the fashionable little picot edge dividing them from each other.

One of the Empress's dresses is of this kind. The stripes are about an inch and a half in width, and the gloss of the satin shows up the dull black of the moire with its long lines of "watering." The short skirt is made of this, and is trimmed in front with real lace arranged perpendicularly in shell-like convolutions, mingled with finely cut jet embroideries. The fat sides of the skirt are also trimmed with lace and jet, the latter forming a well-known Greek key-pattern. The bodice is made open in front, with a drapery of the lace. Another moire antique made for the Empress is in the beautiful shade of red which exactly resembles a ripe gooseberry, and is, in fact, called after it. Indian cashmere of the same tint is mingled with the silk. The short skirt is trimmed with a fan of the silk in front, while the panel sides are in cashmere and moire. At the edge is a deep flounce of cashmere, hemmed with moire, and the back is formed of pleats in two materials. The pointed bodice is in cashmere, with front of the moire. One of the prettiest parts of the imperial Paris trousseau is a costume in soft thick silk in a shade called cineraria, but really our old friend heliotrope under a new name. The front of the skirt is in draped folds of the silk which is of the supple close sort known among milliners as peau de soie. The sides are trimmed with velvet arranged in the form of arrows, the whole of the velvet being embroidered in gold. The back of the dress is partly silk partly velvet. The bodice is silk, with the embroidered velvet introduced back and front. The effect of this dress is at once handsome and lovely.

A very rich Bengaline brocbe in silk and raised velvet is in a soft shade of Goblin blue. The skirt of this dress is long, and is trimmed, with feathers of the same colour, tied up with ribbons to match. The bodice is low and pointed, but a high one was also sent home with it, to be worn on occasions of less ceremony. The beautiful colour called "dying rose" is represented in a costume of striped satin moire and fine silk. The short skirt is trimmed down the front with the stripes arranged in points, which meet in the centre, rising upward at each side. The back is gracefully draped, and the paniers at each side are slightly raised. The pointed bodice is trimmed in front with a narrow piping of palest sky-blue silk. The studied simplicity of the whole is its chief feature apart from its beauty of colouring. These dresses may serve to illustrate the prevailing Paris fashions. To summarize—skirts are short, except for occasions of great ceremony; draperies are flat, and in straight lines; flounces are coming in; bodices are pointed with front usually in a contrasting material, if not colour; and sleeves are plain and close, as they have been for a long time. Shoulder-trimmings, or epaulets, as they are called, are occasionally worn. Prospective brides may be interested to hear that white satin is still considered the correct bridal livery. The wedding dress ought to be either a model of graceful simplicity or else very richly trimmed with lace and orange blossom. A little lace and a spray or two of flowers is scarcely considered orthodox, though probably the legality of the marriage would not be interfered with by the absence of those miles of trimming which milliners love to crowd on the wedding gown.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

BOMBAY MARKET REPORT.

THURSDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 24.

THE feeling of uncertainty regarding the future course of Cotton which the widely divergent estimates of the American Agricultural Bureau on the one hand, and Messrs. Neill Brothers on the other, would appear to have produced upon the arrival markets in New York and Liverpool, has been reflected here in the varying tone and fluctuating prices which have been noticeable from day to day in connection with Cotton of our new crop—the subject which has engaged most attention during the commercial week now under review—the net result being that prices this evening show little change, generally, from our quotations by last mail. In other produce there has been but little of interest to note. Pretty free arrivals of Wheat from the the Central Provinces on some days have led to a brisk business in the Bazaar; but exporters have not been in the market for ready stuff, and the prices quoted for contracts in the new crop to arrive next April and May have not attracted business to any extent on this line. In Seeds there is no business of importance passing either in old, or in contracts for new. Exchange has been on the whole quiet but steady during the past week, the variation in rates having been slight, and the volume of business small. To-day, owing to the full rates obtained for Council Bills in London yesterday, our quotations have moved up a little, and at 1s. 4 13-16d. for demand Bank Bills, and 1s. 4 31-32d. for 3 months' sight Credits, they stand 1 16d. and 1-32d. higher respectively than the quotations in our last weekly report. Freights, notwithstanding a quieter, if not weaker, feeling on some days have been firm upon the whole, and several additional steamers have been fixed for loading during the next three months to the United Kingdom and Continental ports. Government Paper has not shown much movement during the week; yesterday and to-day, however, the tone of the market has been weaker and Four per cents. close at a decline of ¼ per cent. on last week's quotation. Mill Shares continued firm and pretty active for a time after last mail left; but latterly a quieter feeling, followed in some cases by a decline in rates, has supervened. The Import branch of our trade shows no improvement either in current business or in forward transactions. The slack and intermittent demand which dealers experience from Mofussil buyers may well account for the slackness in ready trade; while it is not surprising that the order business drags, when to enhanced prices in Manchester have to be added higher rates of outward Freight.

MONEY.—The last weekly return of the Bank of Bombay showed a decrease in the Cash Balance of some 10 lakhs; but this must not be taken as indicative of increased demand for accommodation from the mercantile public, for it was entirely due to the withdrawal of Government Deposits, trade requirements at the same time showing a net diminution of over a lakh and a half. The Bank's minimum rate remains nominally at 3 per cent.; and in the open market money is still readily obtainable at one per cent. less.

EXCHANGE.—News of a further rise of ⅛d. per oz. in the price of Bar Silver in London, received here last Friday, caused this market to advance 1-32d., both for demand Bank Bills and three months' sight Credits for ready, and forward delivery. The tone was quiet but steady at the advance during the day, but at closing, the ready rate for Bank Paper was quoted the same as on the previous evening, though Credits were still a shade higher. Forward they were 1s. 5d. for December; 1s. 5 1-32d. for January; and 1s. 5 1-16d. thereafter. The market continued steady to the close of the week at a partial advance of 1-32d; but the slightly higher rates forward checked the supply of Bills, and little actual business was done. On Monday the feeling was quiet but fairly steady at Saturday's closing rates. Beyond some sales of demand paper by a house for next year's delivery, however, and of a small amount of ready Telegraphic Transfers by a Bank at 1s. 4 25-32d. scarcely any transactions took place. Next day rates declined 1-32d. in a quiet market, with very little ready business doing on any line. For February-March-April delivery three months' sight Credits were sold at 1s. 5 1-16d., and demand Bank Bills were done for February at 1s. 4 27-32d. Yesterday the feeling was steady pending the receipt of news regarding Council allotments. Ready three months' sight Credits could have been done in the earlier part of the day at 1s. 4 15-16d., but they closed 1-32d. higher. Forward Bank demand Bills were quoted at 1s. 4 13-16d. for January, and 1s 4 27-32d. for February, but offers at slightly higher rates would probably have been found acceptable. To-day, owing to the news of Council Bills having been placed in London yesterday at 1s. 4 13-16d. for 29 lakhs at the regular allotment, and at 1-32d. higher for an extra 3 lakhs, our market opened with a decided advance, one Bank offering demand Bills at 1s. 4 13-16d. for ready, and 1s. 4 27-32d. for December delivery, while 3 month's sight Credits were quoted at 1s. 5d., but there was little private paper offering. This evening the market closes with a quister feeling at the undernoted ready rates; and for forward delivery we quote Bank demand for March-April at 1s. 4½d. and Credits, for the same delivery, at 1s. 5 3-32d.

GOVERNMENT PAPER had a rather lower tendency on last mail-day, and 99 3-16 was at one time quoted for Fours for cash; but the rate soon stiffened again to 99½, at which some transactions took place, as also at 99 1-16 for the account. At these quotations the market remained steady to the end of the week, and in addition to some business reported at them, we heard of some time bargains in Fours for the January amount at 98 11-16. The tone was firm on Monday, 99½ being still the cash rate for Four per cents., while for the account the quotation was 1-16 higher at 99½. Thereafter the feeling continued firm at uncharged rates, but without much business passing until yesterday, when the market was a little weaker and Fours were quoted at 99 3-16 for cash, but with buyers at the decline, and the market closed steady. Business was reported during the day for this month's account, at 99 1-16, and for the next settling day (January 5) at 98 11-16. To-day the cash rate has been weaker again, and after opening at 99 3 16, declined to 99⅛, at which we close. For forward delivery a good enquiry is reported at the rates above quoted for this month and the January settlement. 4½ per cent. paper has been quite neglected, and is still nominally quoted at 102½.

Municipal 5 per cent. Bonds have advanced ¼ per cent., say to 103¼. Port Trust Bonds are unchanged at 92½.

SHARES.—The market for Mill Scrip continued firm in tone and fairly active as to business for some time after last mail left; but latterly the feeling has become quieter, and prices have in some cases given way, while in others they have remained steady. Compared with last mail's quotations the following are the principal changes:—Alliance shares show an advance of Rs. 15; Coorla Rs. 12½; Mahalukshmi, Rs. 10; Colaba Land and Mill, Rs. 5; and Howard and Bullough, Rs. 2½. On the other hand, Hindostan are Rs. 10 lower; Manockjee Petit, Oriental, and Queen, are Rs. 5 down; and Imperial have declined Rs. 2½. In Press shares Mercantile, Mofussil, and New Indian are all Rs. 2½ lower. Little has been doing in Miscellaneous Scrip, and the only changes which we have to notice are a rise of Rs. 5 in Treacher and Co.; and a fall of Rs. 250 in Bombay-Burma 1st issue, Rs. 60 in 2nd issue, and of Rs. 2 per share in Port Canning.

IMPORTS.

PIECE GOODS.—The business of the past week in the Bazaar is put down at 3,800 bales, and the market generally may be called quiet at previous quotations. For Grey Shirtings the up-country demand continues to be of a moderate character only, and irregular, but rates are unaltered. Dealers are more anxious to place their goods at current rates than they have hitherto been, seeing that fresh supplies which they have ordered out are now beginning to come into stock, while what is already on the spot is ample for all requirements. For other descriptions of Grey Goods there is a moderate enquiry at previous rates. In Bleached Goods the lower qualities of Mulls and Jacconets have been sold in large quantities to arrive to up-country buyers; in other descriptions there has been no particular movement. In Turkey Red, Dyed, and Printed Goods there is no change whatever. Of Local Goods the week's offtake is estimated at 2,500 bales of all descriptions, and the market is steady at previous rates.

YARNS.—A moderate business is reported on imported Yarns, and the market is called steady at our last quotations. In Local Spinnings, although sales advised from China during the past fortnight have only aggregated 6,800 bales, the market here has been stronger on account of the general unwillingness of Millowners to sell at previous rates, and thus an advance of 1-32d. has been obtained on approved qualities of 20s. The following are to-day's official quotations:—

Twist	No.	6s	Mule, Ans.	4¾	per lb.

METALS.—Stimulated by the advices from home reporting a considerable and almost daily rise in the price of Copper, our market for this metal has been active, and a large business has been done at prices which show an advance of Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per cwt. on last mail's quotations, the tone being firm at closing. Yellow Metal also closes firm at an advance of 8 annas to Re 1 per cwt. Iron has not been much wanted, and a small business only has been done at previous prices, at which the market remains steady.

COALS.—This market closes weaker. Retail lots of Davison's W. Hartley ex "Gem" (s) and "Hornhead" (s) now in harbour have changed hands at Rs. 20 per ton, business having been done in these cargoes as high as Rs. 22. Powell's Duffryn Cardiff, Oct.-Nov. shipment per "Liscard" (s) and "Darwin" (s) is being offered for sale at Rs. 22½ per ton. Hood's Merthyr, Jan.-Feb. shipment per "St. Bernard" (s) is offering at Rs. 20½. We hear that the "Knight of St. John's" (s) cargo of Davison's West Hartley Coals was sold in England at Rs. 20½, and rates there are said to be much higher on that side than they are here. Our quotations this evening for ready Coals are:—Cardiff, Rs. 22; West Hartley, Rs. 20½; and Welsh Hartley, Rs. 19½; and to arrive the rates are Rs. 20½, Rs. 20, and Rs. 19, respectively.

EXPORTS.

COTTON.—When last mail left our market for the staple had become very quiet, with arrival prices for Cotton of the new crop Re. 1 to Rs. 2 lower. Contracts for March Broach were offering at Rs. 229; "Good" Julgaum, for February, at Rs. 193, and "Fully Good" at Rs. 198, and for March at Rs. 190, and Rs. 196, respectively; "Good" Bhownuggur, for April-May, at Rs. 196, "Fully Good" at Rs. 205, and "Fine" at Rs. 215, but no business of importance transpired at these rates. There was some demand from exporters for "Fully Good" Bengal, for December, at Rs. 160, but sellers asked that rate for January delivery. "Good" Dharwar, of the new crop, for May delivery, was quoted at Rs. 206 per candy. After business hours some 1,500 bales of the leading growths, including "Good" Broach, for March, at Rs. 229, and "Fine" Bengal at Rs. 174½, for December, were contracted for by European buyers; but the market opened with a quiet feeling in the morning, dealers generally asking the same rates, though in some cases rather easier terms were obtainable by buyers. "Good" Bhownuggur was contracted for by exporters, for April delivery, at Rs. 196, and 1,000 bales were afterwards reported to have been booked, for May delivery, at Rs. 195½. "Fully Good" was done for the latter delivery, at Rs. 206; "Fully Good" Khangaum, for February-March, at Rs. 211; and "Good" Broach, for March, at Rs. 229 per candy. On the reopening of the market on Monday morning the tone was very quiet, not to say dull, and quotations for New Cotton marked a decline of Re. 1 to Rs. 3 per candy on Saturday's closing rates. European buyers appeared to have retired from the market; and there was not much doing amongst native operators in view of the conflicting estimates of the American crop. The few transactions reported during the day comprised contracts for Dharwar, for May delivery, at Rs. 204; and "Fully Goods" Bengal, for January, at Rs. 159 per candy. Next day, in sympathy with the quieter feeling in Liverpool, and the absence of movement at New York, our market for the staple was flat, and few transactions transpired. Prices were rather easier, all round, though, generally speaking, the previous day's rates were quoted by dealers. European buyers of Bhownugger were in the market again, and a line of "Good" for April delivery, was booked at Rs. 196, the quotation for May being Rs. 195. Beyond this the only business reported was in Bengal between native dealers who contracted for "Good" at Rs. 148; "Fully Good" at Rs. 158; and "Fine" at Rs. 172, for January delivery. Broach was quoted at Rs. 227-8 for March but was neglected by buyers. News of the comparatively small Receipts at the American Ports on Tuesday, and the advance in arrival prices in the ruling markets caused ours to open with a firm tone yesterday, and higher quotations for most descriptions. There was a fair enquiry for Bhownuggur and Oomrawuttee descriptions from European buyers; but the pretensions of sellers checked business, and few transactions were reported. Some contracts in "Good" Bhownuggur, however, were made for April delivery at Rs. 197; and a lot of New Dhulia which had just arrived found buyers at Rs 202 per candy. To-day the market opened very firm again in sympathy with the news of a further advance in arrival prices in Liverpool and New York, and sellers asked rates which for a time stopped business. Several European buyers were in the market, however, at full rates, and eventually transactions were reported aggregating over 3,000 bales, consisting of "Good" Broach for March, at Rs. 232, and "Fine" at Rs. 240; "Good" Bhownuggur, for May, at Rs. 198, and for April at Rs. 199 and Rs. 199½; and "Good" Dharwar, for May delivery, at Rs. 206. We have also heard of some contracts in Bengal, of the three usual qualities, for January delivery between dealers, at a rupee above yesterday's quotations. A quieter feeling prevails at closing, but the market may still be called steady on the basis of the above rates.

The purchases of old Cotton for local consumption during the week have been on a limited scale, amounting to under 2,500 bales of Bhownuggur, Veraval, Compta, Bengal, and Dharwar, generally at some advance on previous rates.

Cotton of the new crop has been arriving during the past week from the Bengal and Oomrawuttee (Khandeish) districts, and the Receipts of new Cotton now amount to 5,050 bales, which, as will be seen from the subjoined statement, is 23,450 bales less than the arrivals at this time last year, when portions of the new crop were unusually forward. The telegraphic advices regarding the new crop issued by the Chamber of Commerce to-day are of a favourable tenor throughout.

The arrivals of New Cotton into Bombay this season as compared with last are as follows:—

	1887. Bales.	1886. Bales.
Bengals	2,500	16,000
Khandeish	2,500	6,500

The Bombay Gazette

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1887.

THE verdict "amounting to acquittal" which the jury delivered in the trial at the Criminal Sessions arising out of the fatal affray between the Military and Police on the 1st October is doubtless satisfactory to the accused Jemadar, Sunkapa Venkatapa, and his comrades, but it is open to criticism. The case presented difficulties as all cases must do where many of the facts have to be got at through the evidence of witnesses We are naturally biassed on one side or the other. But certain points were established beyond dispute; the deceased, a policeman on duty in the neighbourhood of the barracks where a disturbance arose, received wounds on the head which necessitated his being carried to the hospital where he died some days afterwards from erysipelas supervening from the injuries. The deceased had, besides the injuries to his head, been badly beaten about the body and one witness deposed to seeing twenty-five soldiers striking at him at once. Setting aside exaggeration it may be contestable that the deceased was a policeman on duty, that he was severely beaten, and that he died in consequence of the blows inflicted upon him. If the prisoner did not inflict the blows or if having inflicted them there was no evidence to prove that he inflicted them, then of course he was entitled to a verdict; but as will be seen the acquittal was inferential and constructive rather than direct and explicit. It appears that the Jemadar, who is a commissioned officer, against whom nothing outside the present case can be alleged, his Adjutant giving him an excellent character for good conduct and ability, was instructed to report to a European police officer any disturbance that might arise in the vicinity of the barracks in consequence of the ill-will that had been displayed a day or two previously between the sepoys and the native police constables. A havildar, Ungwar Khan, was beaten by some constables, and the Jemadar, seeing him lying injured in the verandah took a Naik and two Privates with rifles and fixed bayonets out into the street "to report what had occurred to the police." This is his account of the matter; he declares further that as he was proceeding along the Carnac Road he saw the deceased constable coming from the opposite. He alleges that the deceased struck him on the shoulder with his baton and then ran down a bye lane into a house. The Jemadar followed him to arrest him and hand him over to the police. When pursued from the house into a stable the deceased fell from a ladder and injured his head, according to the Jemadar's statement; the evidence of other witnesses gave a very different version of the affair. There were two policemen in the street when the four soldiers came along; the soldiers having rifles with fixed bayonets. The police had only their batons; as Mr. Farran counsel for the prosecution put it, the police being outnumbered and "not being very brave" ran away; The witnesses swear that they saw them run for their lives, one getting away owing to his speed, while the deceased was overtaken and thrown and beaten by soldiers. This is not so improbable on the face of it, as the Jemadar's allegation that a sepoy with a baton as his only weapons struck an officer with a sword who is at the head of a guard with fixed bayonets. If this be what really occurred Mr. Farran must regret that he spoke of the dead police constable as "not very brave." The story of the assault alleged to be committed by the deceased on an armed man, accompanied by three other armed and angry soldiers, seems improbable in the highest degree. And if there was no assault there was no justification whatever for the pursuit of the constable into the house or stable in which he sought refuge, and the inflicting on him injuries which proved fatal. Further doubt was thrown upon the account of the alleged assault by the evidence of Superintendent McDermott, who deposed that when he questioned the Jamadar as to why he left the lines and went out into the street he stated that he did so to arrest the police constable who had assaulted the Havildar Ungwar Khan. If he went out to arrest a policeman the explanation he had given to the adjutant that he went out simply to report to a European constable that an assault had been committed and that he was himself assaulted by the deceased was negatived. Mr. Jardine, who defended the Jamadar with great skill and vigour sought to discredit this testimony of the Superintendent's on the ground that it had not been given in evidence before the magistrate. The theory that the testimony was invented for the occasion is not more easy to accept than the converse that the testimony is true, and that the unprovoked assault on the armed and guarded Jamadar by a scared policeman who had instantly to fly for his life, was an exact representation of the facts. The jury however appear to have concurred with Mr Jardine that the evidence of the witnesses for the prosecution was a concoction, and that the Jemadar's version of the matter was a true one; they therefore returned a verdict that the accused was justified in pursuing the deceased "because the latter struck him with his baton." The verdict is that of the jury, and following the example of Mr. Justice Scott we must accept it as a verdict of acquittal. A Scottish jury would doubtless have returned a verdict of not proven in such a case, the evidence not being sufficient to corroborate the statement of the deceased that the Jamadar had struck him on the head with his own baton, and there being none to corroborate the statement of the Jamadar that the deceased had single handed assaulted him on the shoulder when accompanied by an armed escort.

THE resignation of M. Grevy became inevitable when, having invited M Clemenceau, and M. Brisson to aid him in forming a Ministry, they tendered him the unasked advice to resign A President who is so isolated that he appeals for assistance to party-leaders who take the opportunity to affront his helplessness is without resource. The address to the country which he has issued makes his political ruin complete; for it will be regarded everywhere as a parting blow at the Republic of which he was the head. So far as it is in the power of an individual to do so he has placed the task of governing France by the Republican institutions with which he has been identified since the resignation of Marshall McMahon, beyond the capacity of any man now holding a prominent position in the Assembly or in the country. Neither of the two pretenders possesses the prestige or the force of character to turn the opportunity to account in the interest of a restored monarchy. General Boulanger but recently enjoyed a degree of popularity in the army and in the country which will inevitably direct all eyes to him if his reputation has not been tarnished by the scandals which have done so much to discredit the republic and its chiefs, and have destroyed M. Grevy's government. Marshal MacMahon resigned the Presidential chair on the 30th of January 1879, ostensibly on the ground that whatever Cabinet might be given to him by the majority of the Chamber would impose upon him measures which he deemed contrary to the interests of the army and of the country; but in reality to avoid the threatened prosecution of the de Broglie-Fourtou Cabinet, whose attempt to modify the constitution in a monarchical sense had been foiled by M. Gambetta M Jules Grevy was elected President the same day by a congress of the two Chambers, 563 votes being given to him, and 99 for General Chanzy, the voting being by ballot. On February the 6th the new President sent the Chamber his first message, the opening words of which contrast sadly with those in which he avows that his resignation is not voluntary, but that he finds his task impossible. "The National Assembly," he said in his message, "by raising me to the Presidentship of the Republic, has imposed great duties on me. I shall unceasingly strive to fulfil them, happy if, with the sympathetic co-operation of Senate and Chamber of Deputies, I do not fall short of what France has a right to expect from my endeavours and my devotion." His constant endeavour was to govern France constitutionally, or rather to allow the Chambers to govern constitutionally, while effacing himself and keeping himself aloof from the struggle of parties. His fall appears to have been precipitated by the indiscretion of his son-in-law M. Wilson, who permitted himself to be compromised in a discreditable venality which would have proved fatal to a monarchy. It remains to be seen whether the decoration and postal scandals recently disclosed have not proved fatal to the Third Republic. President Grevy falls in his eighty-first year, having been born in 1807.

ANIMATED by the spirit of enterprise and the love of adventure which seem to be indispensable elements in the composition of the English character, considerable numbers of the Queen's subjects have from time to time sought their fortunes in the Kingdom of the Free. At the present moment the British residents in Siam are not a very numerous body; but few as they are, they are unable to dwell in that unity which we are taught to regard as being so good and pleasant. They are divided by a quarrel which is pursued by the f

THE MADRAS SCANDAL.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

MADRAS, Nov. 24.

On the Court assembling to-day Surgeon-Major Smith was called. He said he had put himself in communication with his counsel after reading the reports of the trial, thinking that possibly his evidence might be of use to an innocent man. He had been attending Mrs. Morgan, when in March last he received a letter from Mrs. Morgan saying that she was in great trouble and wished to see him. She would call if he would mention the time. However, as he was visiting Mr. Morgan he heard what she had to say. It Snowdon Cottage, where Mr. Morgan was living with his father she made a statement to him. At this stage, on the witness being stopped by the Court Mr. Branson applied for a recall of Mrs. Morgan. She said in reply to Mr. Branson's questions that she had written to Dr. Smith that she was in great trouble. Her trouble was that she could not find out from any one what the real state of her husband was. She asked Dr. Smith if her husband would live or die. Dr. Smith replied there was something upon Mr. Morgan's mind that retarded his recovery. She then asked him if zinc was a safe astringent. He replied yes. She did not tell Dr. Smith that a man had forced his way into her room at Gaze and had intercourse with her against her will. Dr. Smith was recalled, but his evidence was not taken. The Chief Justice refused Mr. Branson's application to take it. Mr. Branson then proceeded to address the jury on behalf of Mr. Ross, urging that Mr. Morgan's story was absolutely false.

BOMBAY CHORAL FESTIVAL.

THE fourteenth choral festival was held in St. Thomas's Cathedral, Bombay, on Wednesday evening. The ordinary choir was augmented by the choirs of other churches in the city, upwards of a hundred voices being thus obtained. No special programme was prepared, but the usual evensong was performed; the music selected being the choicest of its kind. The processional hymn was sung as the choristers, followed by Cowley Fathers, the Presidency Chaplains and, lastly, his lordship the Bishop, slowly entered the chancel, through which the flickering altar candles shed a mellow light. The tune to which the processional hymn was sung was one of Barnby's. Tallis's setting, so well-known to all church goers was used for the service; but for the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis Hopkins in F was chosen—plaintive music, well adapted for church service, but not quite so pleasing perhaps as Simper's or Goss's. Of course the most important part of the festival was Villiers Stanford's masterly setting of the hymn "Awake My Heart," and an undertaking of no paltry nature. Dr. Stanford, occupies a foremost place among English composers, and in the setting of "Awake my heart" he has given to the world a composition that will enhance his reputation as a writer of choral music. When it is remembered that in its performance the vocalist has little beyond his own musical skill to rely upon, and that the organ parts yield little support, those who heard it on Wednesday evening will not hesitate to congratulate Mr Nixon upon the success which crowned his efforts as conductor. He had to bring into sympathy an agglomeration of voices belonging to half a dozen different choirs, and after a few rehearsals to present so trying a composition. The performance was more than meritorious, it was an achievement which did the greatest credit to all who took part in it and spoke volumes for Mr. Nixon's skill as a conductor. Mr. Wyer sang the incidental solo; the mere mention of the fact is sufficient to indicate that his rendering left nothing to desire. As accompanist Mr. Mant maintained his reputation as an organist, and his execution of the voluntaries as well as the accompaniments were marred by the consummate skill and ability which characterise all his performances. Mr. Mant also deserves a word of praise and of thanks for the unwearying manner in which he co-operated with Mr. Nixon to bring the amalgamated choirs to the high state of efficiency indicated by the excellent effects obtained especially in Stanford's somewhat difficult composition.

A short and pleasing hymn having been sung, the Rev. J. Scott, Chaplain of Byculla, delivered a brief address from the text, "I will praise the Lord with my whole heart," remarking that on an occasion like this his words must be very few. It was a festival for the improvement of individual choirs in Bombay and rousing them to greater efforts to acquire efficiency in producing a more ornate service. A choir, he observed, gave expression to the emotions of the worshippers and enabled them to render their praise to God in a more spiritual manner. Therefore, he added, they looked to choristers not only for excellence of voice and high musical life but for example, expecting them to lead consistent and Christian lives. Concluding, the reverend gentleman urged the necessity of congregational singing as a means of rendering to God the praise which was His due.

Following the address, an offertory hymn, "Angels Voices Ever Singing," was sung to music by Sir Arthur Sullivan, then "God, Who madest Earth and Heaven." After the benediction, Stainer's final Amen was sung, and "Through the Night of Doubt and Sorrow," as a process onal, Mr. Mant playing a charming revoluntary as the congregation left the sacred building.

THE record of Stamp Revenue Administration for the North-West Provinces and Oudh during the past year confirms the presumption drawn from that of the year preceding, that there is very much greater activity in Oudh than in the North-West Provinces in impounding instruments and instituting prosecutions. As yet, however, no one seems to know whether this is the result of undue leniency in the North-West Provinces or of stricter procedure in Oudh.

A COMMITTEE will shortly be appointed to fix the date for a Civilians' dinner to be held in Calcutta soon after the beginning of the New Year. Sir Steuart Bayley will be asked to take the chair.

NEW PUBLIC CLOCK FOR BARODA.

ANOTHER important addition to the public clocks of India has been made by Messrs. Lund and Blockley, of Bombay, who have just completed the erection of a piece of horology at Baroda that will enable the Gaekwar's subjects within a radius of several miles to take accurate note of time. The tower is of imposing proportions, being 170 feet high, and is prominently placed in the main road of the city. It is built of red brick with white stone enrichments, and forms an important addition to the architectural ornaments of the Gaekwar's capital. The four clock dials, which are six feet six inches in diameter, have iron frames glazed with pure white opal glass, and both hands and dials being quite plain, the time is easily read at a considerable distance during the day and also when illuminated at night. The bells, of which there are five, are contained in a wrought-iron bell frame specially designed with a view to economy of space and durability. Upon the biggest, which weighs about half a ton and has a deep and sonorous sound, the hours are struck and the quarters are chimed upon the four smaller of about the same aggregate weight and consecutive musical notes. The construction of the clock works is known as the three wheel train on horizontal bed plate, of the most modern design, and containing all the latest improvements, so that every part is readily accessible. All materials are of the best, the wheels and pinions are engine cut, hardened and polished and the bearings planed and table-turned. The escapement is double three-leg gravity with compensation pendulum as supplied in the Bombay University Clock, the Kolhapur Palace, the G. I. P. Railway new Terminus and many other important works executed by the same firm in India. The whole has been erected at Baroda under the personal supervision of Mr. Lund to the order of the Municipal Commissioner, Mr. Dinshah Ardeshir, to whose exertions the credit is due of carrying out this important addition to the useful adornment of the city, and for the suggestion sanctioned by his Highness the Gaekwar that it should be named the Chimnabai Tower and Clock, in memory of his late wife.

RAJKOT, Nov. 22.

ON the 21st inst. a very large and crowded meeting was held in the Rajkumar College, Colonel Wodehouse C.I.E., Political Agent presiding, to witness the ceremony of distributing prizes to the students at the two local girls' schools. Among those who were present were Colonel Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Macnaghten, Dr. and Mrs. Barker, Miss Belcher, the Hon'ble Badrudin, Mr. Wadya, Mr. and Mrs. Parkhud, Mr. Haridas, Miss Spencer, Mr. Meliss, Mr. Booth, Messrs. Dhanjishah, Savailal, Kevalram, Ghelabhai, officers of the Agency, State Karbharis, Vakils &c. The girls were seated in the body of the Hall. The proceedings commenced by our popular Assistant Educational Inspector, Rao Bhadur Gopalji reading a short report as under.

Colonel Wodehouse, ladies and gentlemen,—As there is very little time at our disposal I beg to say a few words on the origin and present [illegible] Rajkot Town and Station Girl's Schools whose [illegible] children are assembled here for prizes and presents. The Town Girls' School was established in 1855 by the late lamented and popular Political Agent, Colonel Lang who had supported it out of his own pocket for a few years, when after his retirement from Government service, a sum amounting to Rs. 5,500 was raised and invested in Government securities by the chiefs of Kattywar in commemoration of his popular rule so as to defray the necessary expenses. As the school grew in strength and efficiency the annual income derived from the interest of the fund was found inadequate and it was immediately supplemented by the Thakor Saheb of Rajkot. This school being the first of its kind it should be considered as the foundation of female education in this Peninsula, where there are at present 70 schools with 4,000 pupils, out of 170 schools with about 11,000 pupils in the whole Northern Division of the Bombay Presidency. The Station Girls' School, owing its birth to Khan Bahadur Dhanjishah Hormusji and the honourable Mr. Peile, was established in 1877. It is maintained out of the station fund. The number on the rolls in the Lang Girl's School is nearly the same as in last year, it being now 60 while the average attendance has risen from 46 to 55, shewing an increase of 9. Of 28 girls presented for examination 22, or 79 per cent., have passed the standards, against 59 per cent last year: the 4th standard being the highest that is taught at present. In the Station Girl's School there are at present 71 pupils on the Register with an average attendance of 38 against 62 and 34 respectively during last year, shewing an increase of 9 and 4. Of 31 girls presented for examination 26 or 81 per cent. have passed under the standards, against 76 per cent. last year. The fifth is the highest standard taught at present, though during the first part of the year under report there was one girl in the 6th, or the highest standard, who being an outsider, has left the school to go to her parents. Though the opening of the school dates so late as 1877, it has been successfully teaching up to the highest standard for some years past. The above figures shew that both these schools are in a progressive state of improvement. In Kathywar we are very fortunate that European ladies of rank and position take great interest in the cause of female education. Amongst these may gratefully be mentioned Mrs. Macnaghten Mrs. MacLeland, Mrs. Lely, Mrs. Nutt, and Mrs. Hunter. They fully deplore the generally low state of education amongst native women, and try as much as it lies in their power to raise them to a higher level of civilization. Of these ladies we are particularly indebted to Mrs. Macnaghten for her most laudable interest in the welfare of these two schools. This good hearted lady not only superintends the needle-work of the girls taught by Mrs. Hewett, but also teaches the girls some native songs to European airs, besides paying for some of the sewing materials and some valuable prizes every year for attendance and proficiency in needle work. Her disinterested efforts in many other ways have also greatly contributed to their present prosperity. The Bai Saheb of Wankaner will, at the instance of Mrs. Macnaghten, distribute sweet-meats to the children of both these schools. I gladly take this opportunity to express my best thanks to the Jubilee Committee who have endowed the Station Girls' School with a sum of Rs. 250 in stock-notes with a view to give an annual jubilee prize of Rs. 10 from the interest accruing on it. My warm acknowledgements are also due to Mr. Macnaghten, the popular and learned Principal of the Rajkumar College for having kindly placed at our disposal this splendid hall for the prize distribution and having made other arrangements in connection with it. I should not, in conclusion, omit to mention the names of Khan Bahadur Dhanjishah Hormasji and Mr. Motichand Talshi for their usual kind assistance in promoting the interests of these schools.

Colonel Wodehouse, assisted by Mrs. Macnaghten, having distributed prizes addressed the assembly at some length. He sincerely asked the parents to send their daughters to school as their welfare depended on it. He also thanked Mrs. Macnaghten, Mrs. Lely, Mrs. Hunter, and Mrs. MacLeland for their kind encouragement.

The Diwan of Junaghar proposed a vote of thanks to the gallant Colonel for his kindly presiding on the occasion and taking so much interest in the cause of education.

Mr. Macnaghten seconded the vote of thanks, and added a few words expressive of the gratitude felt by Mrs. Macnaghten.

The girls then sang some songs to English airs. The proceedings terminated with the National Anthem, which was sung by the princely students of the Rajkumar College.

THIS is how the Pioneer welcomes Sir Auckland Colvin to the North-West Provinces:—If we respect the tastes of the Lieutenant-Governor and accord him but a brief welcome to the chief place in these Provinces, in which his father ruled, in which the greater part of his own service has been passed, it is none the less a cordial one. Sir Auckland Colvin is not so fortunate as his predecessor in taking office at the close of a bad regime. But although the late Administration was beyond all doubt successful, there was, if truth be told, less personal attachment to its Chief, among those engaged in it, than one so fortunately surrounded, so given to hospitality and of such charm of mind and manner should be able to enjoy. With new men, new methods; it is the new methods that are thought to be needed. Sir John Strachey's too short rule in these Provinces was robust but popular. Sir Auckland Colvin was his right hand. It was a rule in which the line between virtue and vice in compromise was firmly drawn; in which yea was yea and nay, nay; in which the best men were chosen for the work in hand and left to do it. We may say of the North-West that, of late, she has been singularly fortunate. Twice in ten years have her destinies been committed to the direction of men who tower above their contemporaries over all India. And our new Lieutenant-Governor starts on his tour of Administration strong in the confidence of all classes, and the regard of many friends.

BOMBAY MUNICIPAL CORPORATION.

A MEETING of the Bombay Municipal Corporation was held yesterday, when Dr. Blaney laid before it the following proposition of which he had given notice:—That in preparing their budget for the ensuing official year, the Town Council be requested to reconsider the charges for the registration of births and deaths, along with the charges for vaccination, which together now amount to Rs. 30,000 per annum, with the view of securing a more accurate register of births than now prevails. In his speech, in support of the proposition, Dr. Blaney advocated an amalgamation of the vaccination and the birth and death registration departments. The motion, having been seconded by Dr. Cawasji Hormusji was carried unanimously. The next subject of public interest was a letter from the Medical Secretary to the Government of India, on the question of the establishment of stipends and scholarships by Municipal and Local Boards for the promotion of female medical education. The Corporation agreed to a proposal made by Captain Selby, referring the matter to the solicitors of the Corporation to know whether, under the existing Act, they could legally make any grant for the purpose. The Corporation then proceeded to consider the proposal which has emanated from the Inspector-General of Police, asking their opinion as to whether it would be expedient to legalize a dog-tax in Bombay. Captain Selby proposed that in the opinion of the Corporation no necessity was shown for the levy of a dog-tax in this city. But he subsequently withdrew his proposition in favour of one moved by Sir Frank Souter referring the matter to a committee consisting of the following members for inquiry and report:—Dr. Waters, Dr. Cawasji Hormusji, Col. Merewether, C. L. Portman, Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee, Mr. K. M. Shroff, and Mr. R. N. Khote, the name of the mover being afterwards added to the committee. The proposition was carried unanimously.

THE MAHARAJAH OF VIZIANAGRAM AND THE RIG-VEDA.

IT has already been announced that His Highness the Maharajah of Vizianagram has requested Professor Max Muller to bring out at his expense a new edition of the Rig-Veda with Sayana's commentary. Professor Max Miller now writes:—

This act of enlightened liberality is as much a sign of the times as the recent patriotic offer of his Highness the Nizam. It shows a truly patriotic spirit on the part of the Maharajah, a pride in his own country and its ancient literature, and a wish to combine with European scholars for its preservation and proper appreciation.

Vizianagram is a town, and was formerly a kingdom, full of glorious historical recollections. It formed one of the last bulwarks against Mahomedan invasion, and a refuge for native learning and was called, therefore, not only Vijaya-nagara, the town of victory, but also Vdya-nagara, the town of knowledge. We know of an uninterrupted line of Kings of Vizianagram, partly from inscriptions, partly from books and pedigrees, extending from the 14th century to 1830, when the dynasty founded by King Bukka became extinct. The accounts of the foundation of the kingdom of Vizianagram vary considerably; but, in spite of conflicting opinions, we can see clearly that the first rulers, Bukka and Harihara, owed their success mainly to the support of the Brahmans. One of them, Madhava, was Prime Minister and at the same time the most generous patron and at the same time the most generous brother, Sayana, Brahmanic learning. He and his large number of collaborateurs mentioned as compilers or as the authors of various works on the Vedas and grammatical works, which to this day may be said to form the foundation of Sanskrit scholarship in India. These works existed, however, in manuscript only, and it was in order to collect and collate those MS.S., and thus to prepare the editio princeps of Madhava's great commentary on the Rig-Veda, that I came to England in 1846. My edition was published under the patronage of the East India Company in six volumes quarto, and occupied the chief part of my time from 1849 to 1873. At first the study of the Veda, the most ancient among the sacred books of the East, seemed confined to European scholars only. After a time, however, a new interest in their sacred literature awoke among native students also, and at present the Veda may be said to form the principle subject of study among the really learned Pandits of India. The great reformer Dayananda Saraswati published a text, commentary, and Hindi translation of the Rig-Veda. A Marathi translation is being published anonymously, at Bombay, and a Bengali translation by Rajnesa Chandra Datta had just been finished. A report, assiduously spread at first, that my edition was printed with cow-blood, and ought therefore not to be touched, was soon forgotten, and as mine was the only complete edition in existence—the Brahmans having never allowed their ancient bible to be printed—it soon became very popular. Of late years, such has been the demand for it that the early volumes can no longer be procured for love or money. I have often been told that I ought to bring out a new edition, but at my time of life, and with so much more urgent work still unfinished, I was not very anxious to undertake so laborious a task. Nor could I have done so without assistance, considering that the work consists of more than 6,000 pages quarto, which it took me 30 years to prepare and to carry through the press.

When, however, the Maharajah of Vizianagram informed me that he wished to become the patron of a new edition of the Rig-Veda and of its ancient commentary, which had been composed originally at Vizianagram, had been patronized by its first Sovereign, and written by his Prime Minister, I thought I might at least make a beginning. Whether I shall live to see it finished will depend on the literary assistance which I am able to secure. But, whatever the result may be, the Maharajah has set a noble example which, I hope, may be followed by other Indian Princes. He is a man who knows how to appreciate the benefits of European civilization, but he is not, therefore, ashamed of his own country, its ancient literature, and its time-proof and time-honoured customs. The Rig-Veda is the oldest book of the Aryan world, and to have helped towards its preservation will remain a lasting title of honour to the present Maharajah of Vizianagram, as it has proved to the first ruler of that once powerful kingdom, who is now chiefly remembered as the patron of Madhava, the commentator of the Veda.

A "Madras Civilian" in a letter to the Times, says:—

Professor Max Muller, in the letter you publish today, confuses the two towns in the Madras Presidency known as Vizianagram. The city so interesting to him as the home of the great Sanskrit scholar Madhava lies 340 miles north-west of Madras; the Vizianagram of his Maharajah nearly 600 miles north-east. Nor is there any connexion between the two dynasties. The history of the patrons of Madhava is familiar to every Indian antiquary; the history of the modern Vizianagram is to be found in Mr. Carmichael's "Manual of the Vizagapatam District," published by the Government of Madras in 1869. The family belongs to an illustrious branch of the Rajputs of Northern India, but did not attain political importance till about two centuries ago.

MELANCHOLY AFFAIR AT MADRAS.

THE Madras Mail publishes an account of a distressing incident which occurred in that city on Sunday last. Our contemporary says:—

Towards the close of last week Mr. Alfred E. Gifford, aged 23, the Assayer of the Mysore Gold Mining Company at Kolar, arrived in Madras to make preparations for his marriage with Miss Horswill, a passenger from London by the P. and O. Steamer Knedive. That vessel arrived in the harbour on Saturday evening, and Miss Horswill was received by Mr. Gifford, and by Mr. and Mrs. Collins, of the Ooregum Gold Mining Company. The marriage was celebrated at St. George's Cathedral the following (Sunday) morning, and after the ceremony the newly married couple returned to Dent's Gardens Hotel, where the wedding breakfast was laid. After breakfast the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gifford left the Hotel. Early yesterday morning Mr. Gifford rose, and walked about in the verandah for a short time. Feeling very unwell he returned to his bed room, where he was suddenly seized with epileptic fits, and died in a few minutes. He had, it is said, been subject to such fits many years ago. He presented the appearance of a remarkably strong young man. He led a very active life at Kolar, and seemed to enjoy uniformly robust health. He was an accomplished assayer, and his books were a marvel of Mathematical accuracy and conscientious neatness. Universal sympathy will be felt for her who was maid, wife, and widow within the brief space of twenty hours.

THE Nawab of Bhawalpore has quite recovered from the severe attack of fever from which he had been suffering. The other day he visited the jail and made a thorough investigation into its internal economy and management. He found it necessary on enquiry to order a life prisoner to be caned for continued insubordination. At the same time five prisoners were released, of whom three were women. A meeting was recently held to consider the subject of widow re-marriage, when it was resolved that all persons of influence in society should lend their aid in advocating the re-marriage of widows.

EXTENSIVE INCOME-TAX FRAUDS.

A BENGALI Babu, by name Mukerji, lately in charge of the Income-Tax Office at Mussoorie, has been recently discovered in appropriating Rs. 2,000 of Government money, and appears to have so far eluded capture.

The Pioneer gives the following particulars of the case:—It seems many gentlemen and others in Dehra and Mussoorie are in the habit of paying the tax by cheques. These cheques, when endorsed by the Superintendent, were presented and cashed by Mukerji, who, instead of paying the proceeds to the Treasury, kept them for his own use. A little while back he got a few days' leave and cleared with his booty. The fraud was discovered by a gentleman demanding receipts for past remittances, when it was found that no entries of such payments had been made. The bank, on which the cheques, were drawn, verified the payments made, and the defalcations were subsequently proved to amount to over Rs. 2000. Mukerji up till now has not been recaptured.

EXECUTION OF MAHOMEDANS IN RUSSIA.

THE other day, the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times referred to the condemnation to the scaffold of fourteen peasants of Penza as an illustration of the permanent and general character of some measures which were originally intended by the Russian Government to be temporary and local, for the suppression of purely political crimes. But ordinary criminals are now being executed in all parts of the Empire. This is quite an innovation in the Russian criminal court and is opposed to the religious feelings of the masses. It was owing to the repugnance felt on this score and the commisseration expressed by the lower orders for the political prisoners during their processions through the capital to the scaffold that public executions for political crimes were stopped and the greatest secrecy maintained with regard to them. The authorities, however, now make a distinction in this respect between political and ordinary criminals, the latter being publicly executed. The following is an account of the execution of two Mahomedans in the Caucasus:—

Great lawlessness prevails in the Caucasus and travelling in that interesting country is by no means unattended with danger both to life and property. Especially does this apply to the northern part, where the people, notably the hill tribes of Daghestan, have not yet come reconciled to Russian rule and its civilizing influences. The men in question were natives of Terek, which borders on Daghestan, and their crime was highway robbery with murder. They belonged to a band consisting of nine men all of whom were condemned to be hanged. The criminals, secured by fetters, were brought to a place of execution under a military guard with drum and fife music, and were accompanied by a mullah. The sentence of death was formerly read and seven of them obtained a reprieve, their sentence being commuted to hard labour in the mines for life. These prisoners were then marched off the ground, leaving only two brothers who were to suffer death.

After the mullah had exhorted the condemned they requested that he would read out of the Koran the prayers for the dead, and this request was acceded to. They then took leave of the mullah and embraced each other, after which their fetters were taken off by the executioner, who put shrouds on them and then led them to the scaffold. They remained hanging for the space of half an hour, and their bodies were then handed over to their relatives for burial. During the execution these relatives and friends of the condemned men were busily engaged in cutting up on the spot the carcase of an ox for distribution among the spectators, in accordance with the custom prevailing among the mountaineers of the Terek region. The bodies of the executed men of the Terek region. The bodies of the ground, and after them placed face downwards on execution took place on the island in the sea—the robed in new shrouds and placed on arbas (carts) were for conveyance to their native village in the mountains of Terek. The execution, which was witnessed by a large and motley crowd, took place at the town of Petrofsk, a small and highly picturesque sheltered harbour in the Caspian Sea.

Should capital punishment in Russia become general, as seems likely, it would be well for the authorities to introduce a less primitive and more painless mode of carrying it into effect. The last batch of political prisoners executed in public in St. Petersburg were simply strangled by the weight of their bodies. The condemned was mounted on a wooden stool and a noose put round his neck, the rope being at its full tension. On a given signal the stool was kicked away, and the body swung round, the struggles of the tortured wretches continuing in some cases, according to those who timed their sufferings, for over ten minutes.

Those particulars may possess interest for those who admire the pictures of Russian executions so realistically depicted by the brush of that eminent Russian painter, M. Verestchagin.

The s.s. Verona,

JENNY LIND.

It appears that the death of Madame Lind Goldschmidt, who is better known and will be remembered in history by the name of Jenny Lind, died at Melvern. Her health had been failing for some time and she was compelled not long ago to resign her post as professor of singing at the Royal College of Music, the last link still connecting her with the practice of an art which she had loved from girlhood, and in which successes had been equalled by few. The Times gives the following account of her career :—

HOW SHE BECAME A PROFESSIONAL SINGER.

Jenny Lind was born on October 6, 1820, at Stockholm, and it is said to have evinced musical talent and a beautiful voice in her fourth year. Mdlle. Lumberg, the famous dancer, heard the child in her ninth year, and induced her parents to send her as a pupil to the school of singing attached to the Court Theatre of her native city. Berg and Crolius were her first masters, and she made her debut as Agatha in Der Freischutz at Stockholm in 1838, playing also Euryanthe, Alice in Robert le Diable, and Spontini's La Vestale with signal success. But although she pleased the public she failed to satisfy herself, and in 1841, when her engagement at Stockholm had expired, she went to Paris, to place herself under Manual Garcia, with whom she studied for several months, and appeared once at the Grand Opera in 1842, but without success.

A VOW NEVER TO SING IN PARIS.

It is said that this disappointment induced her to make a vow never to sing in Paris again, and this she strictly kept, although tempting offers were not wanting at a latter period when her fame had become European. In another sense, however, her stay in Paris was to have important consequences. Meyerbeer heard her, and discovered the rich promise which the Parisian public had failed to see, and it was through his means that she obtained the engagement at the Berlin Opera, from which her international celebrity may be said to date.

THE "SWEDISH NIGHTINGALE."

This was in 1844, when Jenny Lind appeared in Meyerbeer's The Camp of Silesia, the principal soprano, part of which had been specially written for her. Here her success was instantaneous. The public greeted her as the "Swedish Nightingale," and Moscheles, who happened to be in Berlin, and later on in London, became one of her warmest friends, speaks of her in a letter to his wife :—"Jenny Lind has truly enchanted me. She is unique of her kind, and the air with two obbligato flutes is perhaps the most incredible thing in the way of bravura that can be heard anywhere."

This testimony from a highly competant musician may be supplemented by that of a still greater one, Mendelssohn, who wrote :—

MENDELSSOHN'S TESTIMONY.

"In my whole life I have not seen an artistic nature so noble, so genuine, so true as is that of Jenny Lind. Natural gifts, study, and depth of feeling I have never seen united in the same degree ; and although one of these qualities may have been more prominent in other persons, the combination of all three has never existed before." The posthumous fame of a singer could not rest on a safer basis than such words from such men. It is true that other contemporary critics are not always equally favourable.

DEBUT IN LONDON.

The author of "Musical Recollections of the Last Half Century," who witnessed Jenny Lind's debut in London, declares that "to my ear she invariably sang somewhat sharp, and I could by no means consider any prima donna to be a great artist who was only positively successful in four operas—Roberto, La Sonnambula, La Figlia del Reggimento, and Le Nozze di Figaro, her normal having been a complete failure." The charge of the Lady's continually singing sharp may be safely dismissed in the face of ample evidence to the contrary, but the fact of her repertoire being somewhat limited cannot altogether be denied.

JENNY LIND AS A STAGE ARTIST.

Jenny Lind as a stage singer was a vocal artist, rather than the interpreter of great dramatic [illegible]. It is true that her acting as Alice in the performance Cross is spoken of as a carefu[illegible] whom we have consulted but some competent [illegible] Jenny Lind belonged to the ed agree in [illegible] who sing first and act afterclass [illegible] quite true that her and the public's favourite op ras required more singing than acting at the same time, it is an interesting subject for speculation how Jenny Lind and some of her famous contemporaries would have acquitted themselves in the more dramatic style which has since come into vogue. That her own bias was not really for the stage is sufficiently proved by the fact that she left the opera as early as 1849, her last appearence "on any stage" as Alice in Robert le Diable taking place on March 18 of that year.

AS A CONCERT PERFORMER.

Henceforth she confined herself exclusively to the concert platform, and there she gained laurels even greener and more lucrative than those of the earlier stages of her career. Her singing of Swedish songs was in its way unequalled ; these simple ditties became the rage of the town, and Moscheles and other fashionable composers of the day transferred them to the piano. But still greater triumphs were in store for the artist in oratorio. Her singing in Mendelssohn's Elijah still lives in the memory of those who heard it. The first performance in England of Schumann's Paradise and the Peri, with Jenny Lind as the principal soprano, which was given at the Hanover-square Rooms in the presence of the Queen (July, 1856), was also a memorable incident in the great artist's career.

THE JENNY LIND FEVER.

Jenny Lind's first appearance on the London stage took place at her Majesty's Theatre, on May 4, 1847, and was preluded by every art of reclame then in fashion. Two rival managers, Lumley and Buhn, went to law over her, and one of them recovered heavy damages, afterwards reduced, in the Court of Queen's Bench. The lady's Continental successes and her private virtues, her charity, and her child-like innocence, were canvassed by the newspapers with a fulness of detail which would do credit to modern journalism ; no wonder that on the eventful evening the house was crowded, and the tickets were retailed by the agents at fabulous prices. The "Jenny Lind fever," already alluded to, raged during that and the following season with unabated violence, taking the form of portraits printed on handkerchiefs, fans, and similar objects. One chronicler even mentions "Jenny Lind potatoes," called so from the blue specks on their skins, because the prima donna had blue eyes. Mr. Chorley, the well-remembered critic, says :—

From the first moment till the end of that season (1847) nothing else was thought about, nothing else talked about, but the new Alice, the new Sonnambula, the new Maria in Donizetti's charming comic opera—his best. Pages could be filled by describing the excesses of the public. Since the days when the world fought for hours at the pit door to see the seventh farewell of Siddons nothing had been seen in the least approaching the scenes at the entrance of the theatre where Mdlle. Lind sang. Prices rose to a fabulous height. In short, the town, sacred and profane, went mad about "the Swedish Nightingale." The fame of Sweden as the home of operatic song-birds has, it may be parenthetically stated, been fully sustained since then by such artists as Madame Nilson and Mdlle. Arnoldson, the promising debutante of last season.

HER APPEARANCE IN AMERICA.

In 1850 Jenny Lind went to America under the, auspices of Mr. Barnum, and accompanied by Mr. afterwards Sir. Julius Benedict. Here she remained for two years giving concerts under Mr. Barnum's management, and later on on her account, and the profits realized by her were fabulous, being variously stated as £20,000 and £3,000,000, It was at Boston, on February 5, 1852, that she married Mr. Otto Goldschmidt, the well-known composer, whom she had previously known at Hamburg, and who assisted her at her concerts. Readers of Mr. Bayard Taylor's autobiography will remember the amusing incident of the ode written in connexion with Mdlle. Lind's triumphs and conferring upon the poet a celebrity the reverse of agreeable. Returned to Europe the young couple settled first at Dinsden and afterwards at Wiesbaden and Hamburg. In 1856, however, Jenny Lind once more appeared on the English concert platform ; and England she finally made her home.

IN RETIREMENT.

Living in comparative retirement from society, the great artist gathered round her a circle of admiring friends, and never lost her interest in the two chief objects of her life, music and charity. A writer in "Grove's Dictionary" states that :—

The whole of her American earnings was devoted to foundling and endowing art scholarships and other charities in her native Sweden ; while in England, the country of her adoption, among other charities she has given a whole hospital to Liverpool and a wing of another to London. The scholarship founded in memory of her friend Felix Mendelssohn also benefited largely by her help and countenance ; and it may be said with truth that her generosity and sympathy were never appealed to in vain by those who had any just claims upon them.

Of late years Madame Lind-Goldschmidt was actively interested in the Bach Choir, as long as it was conducted by her husband, and she was seen at the head of the soprani at each of the concerts given by that institution. She also held, as already mentioned, a professorship of singing at the Royal College of Music. Her holidays she loved to spend at a house bought by her on the slop of the Malvern Hills, and it was here that she died, surrounded by her husband and her family.

She has on board sixty officers. 14 ladies, 18 children, 1,130 men, 38 women and 89 children, belonging to the K. O. Yorkshire L. I., replaced by the Cheshire at Burma and brought to Bombay by the I. M. S. Clive and other details. The families and baggage of the troops with the exception of those of the York L. I., were brought to Bombay via Deolali, by two extra trains in two detachments, and landed at the Sassoon Dock. The main body of troops will arrive early this morning. CATHOLIC JURISDICTION IN BOMBAY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Within the past few weeks a document of considerable importance to the Catholics of the archdiocese of Bombay and of the diocese of Damaun has been published by the respective Ordinaries. It is the decision of the Holy See on certain questions pertaining to the jurisdictions of the Archbishop of Bombay and the Bishop of Damaun, which were submitted some time since to the Roman authorities. I need hardly observe that the authoritative interpretation, as well as the publication, of Pontifical documents rests with the duly constituted ecclesiastical authorities, and that it is not the province, much less the right, of lay subjects to define what is, or is not, understood by the terms of official communications emanating from the Holy See. In the Anglo-Lusitano of Thursday last, which through the courtesy of a friend I have had an opportunity of seeing, I find a conspicuous illustration of the temerity with which wholly unauthorised individuals sometimes obtrude their views on questions which they are not at all competent, still less called on, to discuss. Pope's maxim, "a little learning is a dangerous thing" is generally, if not universally, admitted ; I venture to say that a little theology is a still more dangerous thing, inasmuch as it not unfrequently tempts the possessor to the presumptuous assertion and inculcation of principles which may work very serious mischief to those who look up to him as their "guide, philosopher and friend." I shall not analyse the dogmatic pronouncements of the gentlemen of light and leading who undertake the interpretation of ecclesiastical documents for the readers of the obscure print I have mentioned. Such an analysis would be out of place in your columns. I must, however, confess to a feeling of intense irritation when I read what the editorial "We" does, or does not, think advisable with reference to certain measures and what the same important personality believe, or does not believe the Papal decree to mean, as I conceive, his duty if he is a Catholic, is not to vemilate his crude opinions on matters outside his competence, but to seek information from those who by their office and acquirements are both authorized and qualified to enlighton him.

Our candid friend is not merely dissatisfied with the subject-matter of the queries and replies in the decree I have referred to ; his literary taste is likewise shocked at the accompanying English translation which it seems does not altogether come up to the standard of this hypercritical critic. "As we are not quite satisfied," says this super-sensitive literary artist, "with this English translation that is appended to his Grace's official notification of the decree in question we (mark the modesty !) have taken the liberty of giving an English translation of our own." When I met this passage in the Anglo-Portuguese organ I was somewhat staggered and naturally turned to the improved version. What was my surprise when I found that this highly accomplished English scholar, who hails, I understand, from the classic shores of Cavel Street, had simply adopted the Archbishop's rendering merely with questionable propriety, substituting an equivalent word here and there so as to impart a flavour of originality to "our own" translation (?). Elsewhere what is meant to be a satirical reference is made of the "exquisite manner" in which a certain sentence is translated, and yet the cultured critic in his amended version reproduces it almost verbatim. This, Sir, I call a display of literary impertinence which is equalled only by his theological impudence.

And who, it may be asked, are those self-appointed censors who, in season and out of season, air their notions on ecclesiastical affairs in general for the instruction and delectation of their Padroadist patrons ? Who are those sapient scribes who make their obscure organ the medium of casting abuse and contumely on the vast body of the Catholic hierarchy and clergy of India ? Well, Sir, they are those who owe it to the Propagandist clergy—let me be more specific, to the Jesuits whom they vilify—that they are able to think or write at all. Men who have got everything—even their daily bread—from those whom they now flout ; "free, gratis, for nothing." There are individuals—I care not to characterise them as they deserve—who have a slender memory for benefits conferred ; there are even some who seem to writhe under the feeling of their indebtedness to the bounty of their benefactors La Rochefoucauld tells us in his Reflexions, that as regards the greater part of men it is not so dangerous to do them harm as to do them too much good. The dictum of the philosopher is no doubt very synical, and may be considered as an exaggeration. Unfortunately many of us know cases where it is literally true.—Yours, &c.,

Nov. 22. VINDEX.

Holloway's Pills.—With darkening days and changing temperatures the digestion becomes impaired, the liver disordered, and the mind despondent, unless the cause of the irregularity be expelled from the blood and body by such an alterative as these Pills. They directly attack the source of the evil, thrust out all impurities from the circulation, restore the distempered organs to their natural state, and correct all defective or contaminated secretions. Such an easy means of instituting health, strength, and cheerfulness should be applied by all whose stomach are weak, whose minds are much harassed, or whose brains are overworked. Holloway's is essentially a blood tempering medicine, whereby its influence reaches the remotest fibre of the frame and effects a universal good.

DR. DE ROOS'

CONCENTRATED GUTTÆ VITÆ OR VEGETABLE LIFE DROPS.

THE alchemists of old spent years in endeavouring to find out the means of transmuting baser metals into gold, but in vain. It was, however, reserved for a physician of the 19th Century to make a more valuable discovery in occult science—the result of deep research in the arcana of Nature's mysteries—a boon indeed to the world; and the pleasing results of a quarter of a century, during which time this celebrated medicine has been tried in every quarter of the globe, vindicate the most sanguine of the Inventor's hopes.

Thousands of voluntary testimonials from grateful patients testify to the fact that from this remarkable source new life has been imparted to numbers of individuals; and it is not too much to say that hundreds of persons are at the present day in full enjoyment of their mental and bodily powers—in short, in health—who previously were confirmed hypochondriacs, had been given up by the faculty as incurable, and left to drag out the remainder of their existence a burden to themselves, and a continual anxiety to their friends.

This great life-reviving medicine gives vitality and health to the most shattered constitutions. It not only brightens the system but purifies the blood, and promotes the circulation of the fluids, thus imparting fresh vigour and tone to the nerves, enlivening and invigorating both body and mind. It greatly improves the appetite, and restores the digestive powers, whilst for females it is unrivalled. Those who from long residence in hot climates suffer from languor and relaxation, should all persons going to the East or West Indies provide themselves with this important article on the outset.

Old and young participate in the miraculous and wondrous medicine, for whether the body be debilitated in early life, or sinking under the advance of years, a few doses will speedily afford assurance of returning health, by giving tone to the muscular and nervous systems, and through the organs of digestion to the whole constitution. To the young it gives health, strength, and spirits, in place of lassitude and debility; while to the aged and infirm it assuredly affords great relief and comfort, by gently and safely invigorating the whole corporeal frame; and although it cannot put forward as imparting immortality, it will indeed, amid the autumn of declining years, and in all seasons, calmly and serenely protract the close of life. For persons of all ages, as also for delicate children who cannot take cod-liver oil, the Guttæ Vitæ will be found a most good—being far superior in its strengthening effect at the same time so pleasant to the palate as hardly to be called a medicine. To married ladies, especially, this preparation will prove invaluable, giving strength and vigour in place of lassitude and unfitness for exertion. Price 11s. and 22s. per bottle, the large size contains sufficient for four weeks.

COMPOUND RENAL PILLS

Are justly celebrated all over the world as the most safe and speedy remedy for the above dangerous complaints, Discharges of any kind, Stone in the Bladder and diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs generally.

These celebrated Pills are an infallible remedy in the most obstinate cases. By their use alone many thousands are annually restored to health and the agonies of gout and rheumatism may now be considered a voluntary affliction, as no one need suffer these excruciating torments if they will only have recourse to these Pills, which are confidently recommended by the proprietor as the only real specific; whilst for weakness across the loins, sandy or other deposit in the water, and in all cases of renal or urinary disturbance, they are, indeed, unrivalled. They correct acidity of the stomach, promote the functions of the liver and kidneys, thereby preventing stone in the bladder, &c. Many complaints, long supposed to be nervous, often arise solely from contamination of the blood with certain impurities which should have been carried off by the kidneys. Thousands of testimonials from grateful patients attest their marvellous efficacy. In packets 1s., 1s6d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s. and 33s.

THE MOST WONDERFUL PILLS IN THE W

PILULÆ VITÆ OR VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS

Which speedily, and almost magically, remove pain and disease of whatever nature, restore cheerfulness to the spirits, vigour to the body, and strength to all the organs on which health and life depend; they do not contain a particle of mercury, but are purely vegetable; and for all affections of the liver, flatulency, bile, sick headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, lowness of spirits, the sensations of fullness at the pit of the stomach, pains between the shoulders, and the distress arising from indigestion and general debility they will be found of unexampled efficacy. They act mildly on the bowels without pain or griping, impart strength to the stomach, promote a healthy action of the liver, clear the skin, remove shallowness and pimples, purify the blood, brace the nerves, and marvellously invigorate the whole system. Price 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d. 4s. 6d., 11s. and 33s. per box.

Every package of Dr. De Roos' preparations bears the British Government Stamp with the words—"WALTER DE ROOS, London," in White Letters on a red Ground, by order of Her Majesty's Honourable Commissioners, without which none can possibly be genuine. ADVERTISING AT RAILWAY STATIONS.

G. I. P. RAILWAY COMPANY

THE NIZAM STATE RAILWAY

AND

THE BHAWNAGAR GONDAL RAILWAY COMPANY.

The exclusive right of advertising at all the Railway stations belonging to these four Companies, is prepared to contract with parties desirous of posting Notices or Advertisement on the lines.

The announcements may be in English or in any of the Native Languages.

The advantage which Railway Stations present as a means of ringing intimations of all kind before the public have been demonstrated in England by the extensive use which is made by Advertisers, at every station, great and small, along every one in the United Kingdom.

INSURANCE COMPANIES, SHIPPING COMPANIES, HOTELS-KEEPERS, MERCHANTS, TRADERS and others who wish to force their business on the notice of the public, will all appreciate the privilege of Railway Station Advertising.

And as nearly ALL TRAVELLERS ARRIVING IN INDIA NOW LAND AT BOMBAY and proceed by the G. I. P. or B. B. and C. I. Railways to their destinations, Placards exhibited at the different stations on those lines are every day becoming more and more valuable as means of bringing the Advertisers business to the notice of the public.

On the NIZAM STATE RAILWAY the Cantonment of Secunderabad, as is well known, contains the largest military garrison in India, a garrison comprising over 5,000 British and native troops. Contiguous to it is the Cantonment of Bolaram garrisoned by two Regiments and one Battery of the Hyderabad Contingent, all officered by Europeans. South of Secunderabad, about four miles, are the suburbs of Hyderabad containing the Nizam's Regular troops, about 5,000 in number, officered mostly by Europeans, besides a large civil population. It would manifestly be a source of profit to firms to advertise at these Stations, the most important of which are Secunderabad, Hyderabad, Lingawaram and Tandur.

Orders for exhibiting Advertisement Boards on the B. B. and C. I. Railway stations will also be received at this Office.

RATES.

Boards not exceeding 2 feet long and 2 feet broad Re. 1 per month. For every additional square foot annas 2.

Thus a firm exhibiting a board, say 4 feet square will have the advantage of having their business Advertisement read by thousands of passengers on one station platform for the trifling monthly expenditure of Re. 1. Parties advertising on six stations or more will be allowed a discount of ten per cent.; on twelve stations or more twenty-five per cent.

Special arrangements for long periods.

The boards to be delivered at the "BOMBAY GAZETTE" Office, whence they will be sent by the Lessee to the various stations selected by the Advertiser. In the event of the contract terminating, the boards will be brought back to Bombay at the sole expense and risk of the Advertiser.

Advertisers can select the stations, on the four lines at which they wish their Placards posted, and may advertise for any period that may be agreed on. The charges have been fixed on an extremely moderate scale to encourage Advertisers to make a liberal use of this new means now offered of making announcements known to the public.

Placards, according to the taste of Advertisers, may be printed at moderate charges in English or any of the Native languages at the "BOMBAY GAZETTE" Press. Estimates on application.

HOP SHE SHOWED SIGNS OF DEATH. BITTERS.

HOP " 52, Storks-road, S.E., June 2, 1887. BITTERS.

HOP "To the Hop Bitters Company (Ld.) 41, Farringdon-road. BITTERS.

HOP "I have much pleasure in testifying to the exceeding great value of your Bitters. My grandmother, who is now 78 years old, was taken very ill a few days ago, which settled in her back, affecting the kidneys. I had medical aid, but the medicine made her worse instead of better; and the doctor who attended her said she would only last a few hours. I must admit that I believed what he said was true, and she evidently showed signs of death. But we gave her dose of Hop Bitters as stated times, which acted with good results. It is now two months since this happened, and I am thankful to say that she has recovered so much as to be able to go out, and looks better than she did before she was taken ill. BITTERS.

HOP "You can make what use you like of this letter, as I feel convinced that had she not had the bitters, I should be sorrowing over her loss.—Yours faithfully, BITTERS.

HOP (Signed) "R. K. HAMILTON." BITTERS.

Dr. E. J. LARANAUD'S

ESSENCE OF GHIRETTA.

That it has a really beneficial influence on the LIVER, has been proved beyond all doubt by the numberless cases in which it has been tried since the year 1850.

It has saved thousands of valuable lives, and has enabled very many thousands more to continue their residence in India in the enjoyment of perfect health and comfort.

In cases of General debility, especially that form of weakness, bodily and mental, arising from a prolonged residence in a warm climate, it has proved itself of the utmost value. In convalescence from long standing Malarious and other Fevers; Affections of the Spleen, Worms and loss of appetite, its benefits have been most signal.

☞ We should add that an indubitable proof of the great value of this wonderful remedy is the various imitations which are being made.

Please observe that it is prepared only by Messrs. E. J. LARANAUD & Co., at their MEDICINAL HALL, BEHARES, from the original receipt of E. J. LARANAUD, M. D., and is procurable from Medicine vendors all over India at Rs. 4-0, Rs. 2-8, and Rs. 1-8 a bottle. Every bottle is capsuled and bears on its labels the fac-simile of our signature, to imitate which is felony.
